

Dacha Theatre returns to their most audacious theatrical feat with Shakespeare Dice!

DICE: Romeo & Juliet plays in-person at the Sankofa Theatre from April 1-24

(March 3rd, 2022 - SEATTLE, WA)

Dacha is thrilled to produce the next iteration of our fast-paced, innovative “Dice” series — an original format in which a small ensemble of actors memorize the entire script of a classic play. At each performance, the audience rolls dice to determine who plays which part, and the show goes up! This time around, we’re applying the Dice format to Shakespeare’s “greatest love story of all time,” and celebrating how different Romeo & Juliet can be in each combination of our 10 actors.

We reimagine Shakespeare’s iconic tragedy as a vivid dream-turned-nightmare, with spectacular choreography, Dacha’s signature playful interaction with the audience, and a magnetic underscoring by a live band. Dice: Romeo & Juliet will be raucous, adrenaline-fueled, and heart-wrenching, as our brilliant actors roll the dice to fight and fall in love night after night. This love story will never be quite the same, so plan to come again and again!

The Dice format produces a novel show experience every time, and has audiences raving:

“Based on the premise, you might expect a harried and unfinished production, but this show does not follow the rules of logic. There’s beautiful blocking and choreography, constant and clever improvisation, [...] somehow, they even pull off stage combat. This is magic.”

— Julia Raban, The Stranger, review of Dice: Twelfth Night (2017)

“[Dice] was like watching a Cirque du Soleil high-wire act: half the time you’re marveling at what they’re pulling off and thinking ‘oh god, please don’t fall,’ and the other half of the time you’re forgetting all about that because the artistry is so amazing.”

— Audience member, review of Dice: Hamlet (2018)

Dice: Romeo & Juliet opens April 1st and runs through April 24th at the Sankofa Theatre in the International District of Seattle. Tickets are available on a sliding scale, with tiered pricing ranging from $25-50. A pay-what-you-can option is available for all performances. The show features a rotating cast, with seven out of ten ensemble members performing each night.

Founded in 2016, Dacha Theatre is a Seattle-based theater company that specializes in devised, immersive, and playful work. Dice: Romeo & Juliet is our second return to fully in-person indoor theatre experience, after Much Ado About Nothing (2021, Dacha’s first hybrid show) and a summer of outdoor programming with Star Play and Dears in Headlights (2021). Previous iterations of the Dice series: Twelfth Night (2017), Hamlet (2018), As You Like It (2019), and Pride and PrejuDICE (2019).
